1

Otoscope/Ophthalmoscope Set:

Everything here is a Welch Allyn diagnostic set. This one is their best seller. Your ophthalmoscope must have a coaxial head and panoptic is not acceptable.

Your otoscope MUST be compatible with the disposable ear specula provided by school. Must also have pneumatic bulb attachment. This fits those requirements. The more expensive sets are lighter and the power will last longer. These high quality sets will last you through rotations and beyond, when you'll be using them to see real patients. You'll also get freebies!

2

Sphygmomanometer/ BP Cuff:

Your basic manual BP cuff. The BLK one will work too. Remember that your BP cuff must be latex free, and NOT the automatic kind.

TWO Tuning Forks:

You must have one 128 Hz weighted type tuning fork, and another one that is between 512 - 1024 Hz. These fit those requirements.

5

2-Sided Reflex Hammer:

Your reflex hammer should have a narrow end and a longer end (triangle shaped), such as this one. A heavier one will be easier to use.

6

Penlight:

To see the beautiful windows to your... brain ☺

7

Gloves:

For Anatomy lab and Neurology lab. And for being the savior to your forgetful friends
